A message from the CEO

Hello Priority Postal members!

I know most of you are thinking "What? Priority Postal... what's that?" This is the new name of Pasadena Postal Credit Union. We are so excited to introduce our new name to you all since it is now official. The Board of Directors and staff decided that the change was necessary in order to show inclusion to our entire field of membership by not singling out Pasadena in our name. We will still be able to go by PPCU for short.

Ruby and I look forward to continuing to grow our credit union as we get out to each post office in the coming months. The most efficient way to grow, however, will always be word of mouth from our current members. Be sure to tell your family and postal friends about us!

Take care,

Jennifer Key
